Copperhead Procrastination

The principal copperhead journals throughout the Northern States justify the postponement of the Chicago Convention on the ground that "from the Fourth of July to the eighth of November, there will, in all probability, occur events that will work important change in public sentiment," and that they will know better in September than in July who is the man that should be chosen for their standard bearer. Both of the foregoing propositions are correct, "important changes" will take place in public sentiment in the period named, but not a change by which the Democracy can be advanced an any of its nefarious schemes They will have discovered before November next that Democracy is another name for treason, and none but traitors will rally beneath the folds of its black flag. The contempt and detestation of all good men will by that time have been drawn upon what is left of the present Democratic organization, and the masses hitherto hoodwinked by the perfidious representation of Democratic leaders, will go in solid phalanx to the ballot box, and deposit the death warrant of northern doughface and traitors If the copperheads do not know better in September who to select for their nomination, they might make a sad mistake and put it upon some man heretofore idolized by them, but who had subsequently entitled himself to their contempt by loyal utterances In the meantime,—before the final and irrecoverable step is taken—many another, like McClellan, will define his position on the Union side, and until the copperhead ranks are thinned of these Americans with consciences, the selection of their leader will be accompanied with possible disaster to their principles and policy

Even after their nomination has been made, its contribution in which they will find themselves will by no means enviable, for he who is base to the country is not reliable in his relations to party The really conscientious men who have opposed the Administration of Mr Lincoln on grounds of expediency and executive policy, and who until within a short time have been identified with the organization misnamed Democratic, are gradually, as the ultimate aims of the campaign develop, withdrawing their countenances from covert treason, and planting their feet firmly on the Union platform The certain, speedy and total wiping out of the rebellion at the South will leave so small a spot for Northern traitors to stand upon, that no one with ordinary foresight, will cling to a party without principle or seek the commission of an act without a motive, at least in hope

The New York News, in giving its views upon the postponement of the Convention, speaks of the Democratic party in the following language

Their success does not depend upon the elaborated intrigues of organizations nor upon the prestige or personal influence of any aspirant They do not rely upon the efforts of well trained partisans nor upon the systemized electioneering of office holders and Administration henchmen They require but little time to mature plans or to arrange the gear of campaign action

This is about on a par with all truth with which Copperhead articles abound. No party ever had the opportunities to encourage official bribery and corruption which were constantly embraced by the Democratic fathers of treason, and no citations are necessary to call to mind the habitual sale of offices under their political rule But their dominion has concluded, and treason and modern democracy will be this year buried in the same coffin, whether they hold their Convention or not

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION —The Union restored, there would be 324 votes in the Electoral College But Alabama Georgia Florida Mississippi North and South Carolina Texas and Virginia will not be represented in the election of 1864, and the whole number of Electoral votes will be 267—of which 134 will be a majority This count includes Arkansas, Colorado, Louisiana, Nevada Nebraska Tennessee and West Virginia The aggregate vote of the loyal States amounts to 231, three fourths of which will be cast for Lincoln and Johnson In any event there are more States casting 138 votes sure for Uncle Abe viz California Illinois Indiana Massachusetts Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Vermont In the remaining loyal States, Lincoln and Johnson's chances are better than their opponents The copperheads talk about electing a President. They will not be decoy birds —Appeal

Will our neighbor have the goodness to put us in his loyal count next time? We haven't got but three votes, yet three votes will help a little, and just so sure as time rolls on until November, Oregon will cast her electoral vote for Lincoln and Johnson. The copperheads may "put that in their pipes and smoke it

For expressing a desire to "kill every Irishman in the Union army," and a wish to "cut Abe Lincoln's throat," Frank Linn, an Irishman, was recently arrested at Gold Hill and sent to Fort Churchill to cut wood and pack sand

Letter from Curry's Expedition

CAMP NO 4 STEIN'S RIVER
Oregon July 8th, 1864

EDITOR OREGONIAN

I have been waiting a long time for some of the rest to turn up With the stars of a Union unbroken and true Arise and defend it ye sons of the brave Whose blood fought the banner your valor must save. I write you the fact was that nothing reached the expedition would have found the most direful alteration of its hopes—a fight. Had there been one in the middle of July and in the very heart of an Indian country, and no fight has yet occurred I envy the superiority of our almost incessant marching Scouts has been sent in every direction we have passed along large detachments and small ones have ransacked the hills, valleys, and rancherias while the main command has made rapid advances in all once visible directions, at no exception to order and in such quick success in that it is meant to be incredulous that we should have so carefully missed the enemy

On the 1st of June our command was scattered over a large extent of country I in mile from was at the mouth of Owyhee the wagon train under orders for Fort Boise Lieut Curry with a detachment of cavalry, was in charge of Capt Henderson while Captain C with the remainder of the command was on a road to Steins Snow Mountain in the vicinity of which Lieut Wayman had his fight with the Indians last Spring

The main train arrived at Camp Henderson on the 7th of June Two days previous Capt C with a small party of cavalry in search of Indians had surprised and killed a party of six Snakes on Jordan Creek, 30 miles and were to rejoin A messenger (a miner) came to camp on the morning of June 8th with a report that 60 mounted and well armed warriors were on the Jordan Creek trail 20 miles above the point where Capt C's party had killed the Indians Lieut Pepper with his wagon train was expected to come over the route and inasmuch as our rations were to be out Capt C moved with all his cavalry at once to meet the enemy and save our bacon He marched up Jordan Creek over 30 miles, and having fully satisfied himself that there were no Indians except perhaps a small thieving bands, in the Jordan Creek region he sent an escort of 20 men under Lieut Curry, Lieut Pepper, and returned with his command to camp on the 12th The express of June 7th had brought us the news of the flight of Lieut McCall's party and orders for Capt C to move at once with his whole force to Harney Lake where he would be joined by Capt Drake's expedition Still awaiting the arrival of the wagons at Camp Henderson on the 14th Capt Rinehart with his Company was sent to scout the country along the Owyhee, above the Great Bend This scouting resulted in nothing except to prove there were no Indians in the Canyon for 30 miles above Jordan Creek Ferry

The wagon train arrived on the 16th, and on the 16th Capt Curry moved up Gibbs Creek 15 miles and camped at its source which is a large spring In the evening Capt R and his Company came up and joined the command, when, for the first time since the expedition started, it was all together

The 17th was commemorated in appropriate style During the day, the farriers and blacksmiths made the camp ring with their incessant clatter repairing the worn and tear of wagons and horses feet and at night the patriotic Uncle Sam gave a ball in the shape of a "scamp dance" His warriors who were with Capt C when the party of Snakes were killed, secured three scalps over which it is their delight to hop and howl

On the 19th we marched across a desert of 30 miles to a fine grassy valley at the eastern base of Stein's Snow Mountain About 20 miners followed us for the purpose of prospecting on the west side of this mountain, where there are reported to be rich mines.

The 20th and 21st were spent in selecting an eligible spot for establishing a permanent Depot and in throwing up earthworks. The place selected is between the rifle pits at Lieut Waymire's camp and the scene of his engagement, on a small creek that comes down from the hills and sinks in a marsh in the valley about three miles out from the base of the mountain The Depot was named Camp Alvord, in honor of the worthy General commanding this District The earthworks and trenches around it and the fine stream of water running through it, render Camp Alvord safe against attack, and altogether convenient and pleasant in its arrangement. Capt Barry superintended the work of constructing it and is entitled to much credit for the manner in which he conducted it and the earnest zeal he displayed in securing its early completion

The valley in which Camp Alvord is situated is about 50 miles in length, and from two to ten miles in width lying almost due north and south along the base of Stein's Snow Mountain. It is finely watered by many small streams that come down from the snow crowned hills at regular intervals and spread out over the green valley There are also three small lakes, several miles apart, which abound in ducks, etc There appears to be no outlet to this valley, which may partially account for the singular alkali flat which is opposite Camp Alvord, and thought by many to have been once the bottom of a lake The alkali flat, as it is called on the map, is about four miles wide and ten miles long It is level and smooth as a marble floor, and almost as hard No vegetables of any kind grow here and one would readily suppose it had once been the bottom of a lake Our guide, Mr Gale who was a trapper in this region 25 years ago, says, I have seen large bands of horses belonging to trappers and Indians, grazing along the four hills here, when this flat served as a race course upon which they trained and ran their horses and when they ran their gambling mortle the fun fly

At the northern end of this valley, within 40 miles of Camp Alvord is where the Indians attacked Capt Smith's dragoons in 1860, and drove them back to the vicinity of Harney Lake

There is one peculiarity about this valley—and especially the alkali flat lying opposite the highest peak of the mountain—which is worthy of more than ordinary notice It is the mirage which is to be seen here We found ourselves wonfully deceived by this singular phenomenon It assumes all conceivable shapes and may often be seen in different directions at the same time

It was the effect of this mirage, no doubt that deluded the party of citizens, who accompanied Lt Waymire into charging upon the flock of wild geese and the same case may have had much to do with the fate of the unfortunate scouts under Sergeant Cashell, though there are some very plausible hot springs in the vicinity which in the morning when it is cold, emit volumes of steam resembling smoke from liquid fires I have seen huge columns of vapor suspended in the air, and massive columns of grotesque masonry rising wasn really there was nothing, In deed at times so perfect is the representation of broad sheets of water far out on the dry plain that I could distinctly see the motion of the rolling waves, and along the apparent shore the reflection of every rock and shrub was clear and complete What a field for another Don Quixote! This region seems to abound with awful legends and strange adventures

Leaving Camp Alvord in command of Captain Barry, our expedition marched on the 22d passing northward 25 miles then turned westwardly across the mountains arriving at Malheur Lake on the 24th We found two water of the lake strongly impregnated with alkali geese quills and foul substances generally Wish ug to pass around the south end of this lake to get to the northeast side of Harney Lake we found that at this season of the year, the two were connected by a shallow strait of from 3 to 5 miles wide which is very miry and consequently impassable It now became necessary to keep around both lakes and come up the west side of Harney until we intersected the immigrant Road via Malheur river to Eugene City Here we turned eastward passing along the northern end of Harney Lake and out this strait 20 miles above where it empties into Mallheur Lake where we landed to muster on the 30th At night Capt Drake's guide and scouts came to us and on the 1st of July both expeditions met at noon compared notes and had a jolly time It was found that the two commands had passed within 15 miles of each other Captain Drake was near Captain Smith's old camp when Captain Curry left the large valley for the lakes

March on the 2d 3d and 4th northward through a wonderful barren country we now found ourselves in a mess they 20 miles south of Canyon City Lieut Waymire with 9 men reconnoitering north east toward the Buena Lieut Curry with 20 men has gone to Canyon City We expect to march from here westward toward Camp Maury scouting the Crooked river country thoroughly and if we make any developments I will let you hear from me again

The California American Eagle has the following on "Political Patriotism":

We have more than once heard the assertion of men that the professions of loyalty made by men who allowed their fear of pecuniary loss to run in the ascendency of their better judgment would be found to be the governing principles of their conduct, were put to the test of a battle or a siege We still hold that test of patriotism of any man who is not willing at the present juncture to sustain the Government and the Union at all times and under all circumstances to stand by his sentiments boldly and fearlessly if getting in the advancement and support of a great principle, the minor considerations of personal safety and pecuniarly gain We have already had too much of the shilly shallying, non committal sort of patriotism in The Eagle Of Heaven took not into consideration the possibility or utility of a conservative policy when the Prince of Darkness first set the example of unholy rebellion, but consigned him promptly to hell His course in that case as in all others is well worthy of emulation The question is simply, loyal men or traitors Treason and patriotism are and ever must be irreconcilably antagonistic No amount of sophistry can be successful in producing an affinity and the man who allows motives of interest to intervene between him and his country, in his hour of need is guilty of covert treason and has taken the first step in the path of the traitor

As for ourself we say here using this as the channel through which our sentiments will most specially and effectually reach the public notice that we have not nor do we wish or intend to have anything in common with traitors We do not like them nor do we fear them Their patronage if bestowed upon us, comes unasked and unsought If we have it, is from no feeling of friendship on their part nor would they grant it did they not anticipate receiving in return benefits more than its equivalent We can live with it or without it, and they may bestow or withhold it This is the position we occupy, and if any of our copperhead friends do not like it, so much the better.

GENERAL SHERIDAN —General Sheridan, the new and distinguished leader of the national cavalry in Virginia, is well described in an incident related by the correspondent of the Herald

It was at this juncture that I rode down through a deluge of rain to General Sheridan's headquarters I found him standing under a tree smoking a cigar. He had just opened two sections of Fitzhugh and Pennington's batteries upon the advancing infantry and was watching the effect of their fire Seeing that his men still held back, he ordered up the ammunition train of the first division, and caused Lieutenant Malone to issue a supply to Wilson's command who had expended all their own He then placed himself at their head and thus addressed them "Boys you see those fellows you don't They are green soldiers from Richmond They are not veterans You have fought them well to day, but we have got to whip them! We can do it and we will" General Sheridan is about thirty to thirty two years of age is not far from five feet five inches in height, of dark complexion and hair, and has a piercing blue eye His manner is entirely without pretension, but at the same time perfectly easy, and free from any approach to awkwardness When not engaged in fighting he is sociable and genial He is endowed with a large amount of what is called in the West hard horse sense which he always draws upon in the readiest manner At every emergency he is full of expedient, being never at a loss for the means of extrication His orders are given in a mild firm tone without appearance of excitement, while his manner conveys the impression that they must be executed. The word fail does not seem to have entered his vocabulary.

GEN GILLMORE'S ARREST —Gen Butler some days ago relieved Gen Gillmore of his command, and ordered him court martialed for having failed to attack Petersburg in front at the time when Gen Hunta's cavalry recently attacked it from the rear It will be remembered that Gillmore advanced towards the works of the city, but found them so strong and apparently so well defended that he considered them impregnable to assault by the force at his command Lieut Gen Grant does not seem to have been of the same opinion as Butler of Gillmore's misconduct in the premises, for he released him from arrest, suspended the order for the court martial and sent him to Washington to await further orders Gen Gillmore was the hero of the reduction of Fort Pulaski As an engineering officer he stands very high, and his courage and gallantry have never before been questioned — Wash Cor S F Bulletin

FROM JACKSONVILLE —The Intelligencer of Saturday says that on Thursday a red whiskered bombre calling himself W C Hitchcock ran away with the wife and child of W J Cunningham.

We clip the following from the same paper

CROPS—We have been conversing with several farmers of this county and they inform us that the burs is as at present a very short crop is barely half a crop at the most half and hoy hardly that yet it is will be abundance of winter feed for stock on account of all the last year oats being cut for hay The stock of the valley is not so numerous as heretofore and is rapidly increasing The price of produce will not materially advance unless gold mines are discovered to the east of Fort Klamath as the neighborhood of Upper Lake will must obtain the greater portion of their supplies from Southern Oregon

The Statesman has the following

A drove of four hundred cattle passed the night town on Monday bound for the North We understand that numerous droves have passed along the same road out of here, bound in the same direction We also learn that numbers of sheep are being brought into the upper part of the Valley from California

There was no foundation in the report that Hon D O Underwood had resigned He is an efficient officer, and we are glad to learn that he is to remain in the service The statement that Lt Col Dr Wheeler had dismissed from command was equally without foundation Lt Col Wheeler is a resident of Benton county and one of last year's graduates of Willamette University He is the finest steamer for the purpose of joining the National Army

NEW STEAMER FOR THE PACIFIC —The Sacramento for San Francisco via Panama sailed from New York on the 13th ult, and will run in the California and Panama trade Another new steamship, the New York for the same trade was launched in New York on the 16th ult She is of 3,000 tons measurement, and is represented as a fine model

NEW COAL MINE IN W T —The new coal mine opened on the Washington Territory side of the Straits of Fuca between Port Angelos and the Cape is being opened and fifty tons sent to San Francisco for trial It is situated on what is known as the "Thorndyke claim," and it was discovered about four years since We have seen some of the coal, and it looks very well

SANITARY RECEIPTS —The receipts of the Ladies Sanitary Aid Society, from their ice cream and floral festivals of Friday and Tuesday evenings, were—

Amount received $38 00
Deducting expenses 87 25
Profit $314 70

Now as in all their previous efforts, the Society have to thank a patriotic public for that generous support which has thus far enabled it to continue its existence, and to feel that it is enabled to do a small part in removing some of the bitterness from the bregs of this bitter cup of war Special thanks are due to Mr Miller, of Milwaukie, for some pails of choice flowers which were sold for $20 25 The people of our own town were as universally active and generous that it is impossible to particularize To all who assisted, we tender sincere thanks

REFRESHING —Yesterday, although hot, uncomfortably so, was not without its shady spots and pleasant retreats Just before dark, when little breeze there had been, died away, leaving a dull, dead calm, like the premonitor of a storm to one of old mother earth's caustic brews, or some other revulsion of the elements People on the streets suffered the types in the office voted it quite hot, and who should darken our door but A Bergman, the celebrated confectioner and ice cream artist, who made a pretty bow, and deposited a generous collation of ice cream and cakes for two hours, who were soon in a melting mood We thank Mr Bergmann for his kind remembrance and will add, that if he treats all his customers as well as we were treated last night, they'll call again—no matter if it is not quite so hot

WHAT IT MEANT —On the arrival of the steamer Hunt, yesterday, we noticed the name of "Joe Abe" marked on the cover of an emigrant wagon At first, it was whispered around that the President had come in disguise, on a trip Overland to see how we are all getting along But on a sober second thought, we concluded that could not be—for we heard only a few days ago through the telegraph, that Mr Lincoln was in Washington corresponding with the Rebel Peace Commissioners through Mr Greeley, and we also know that the "telegraph never lies" (?)—so we concluded the owner of the wagon had the name in question on his wagon cover, thinking it would have the same effect upon the hostile Indians as a horse shoe has in front of a house to keep witches off

HARD HEAD —Rather an amusing affair occurred on the street yesterday afternoon A ferocious dog —perhaps a very wrathful one—hit a stranger in the foot, inflicting a slight wound Revenge was then sought for on the part of the man, and he immediately procured a large club and went on the hunt for the dog Finally coming upon he sagacious animal lying in front of his masters door he concluded that the time had come to "get even," and accordingly advanced club in hand, and gave him a severe blow over the head He was left for dead as it was supposed by whom he treated the tragedy His skull was fractured When his dogship quietly took to his heels to the scene of contest without any trouble Nobody hurt!

SANITARY RECEIPTS.—The receipts of the Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society, from their ice cream and festival festivals of Friday and Tuesday evenings, were—

Amount received $288 95
Deducting expenses 67 25

Profit $214 70

Now, as in all their previous efforts, the Society have to thank a patriotic public for that generosity which has thus far enabled it to continue its existence, and to feel that it is enabled to do a small part in removing some of the bitterness from the bregs of this bitter cup of war. Especial thanks are due Mr. Miller, of Milwaukie, for some pots of choice flowers which were sold for $20 25. The people of their own town were so universally active and generous, that it is impossible to particularize. To all who assisted, we tender sincere thanks.

Mrs. A. C. GIBBS, Secty.

REFRESHING.—Yesterday, although hot, uncomfortably so, was not without its shady spots and pleasant retreats. Just before dark, what little breeze there had been, died away, leaving all dull, dead calm, like the premonitor of a simoon. one of old mother earth's spastic throes, or some other revulsion of the elements. People on the streets suffered; the types in the office voted it quite hot, until who should darken our door but A. Bergmann, the celebrated confectionary and ice cream artist, who made a pretty bow, and deposited a generous collation of ice cream and cakes for the boys, who were soon in a melting mood. We thank Mr. Bergmann for his kind remembrance, and will add, that if he treats all his customers as well as we were treated last night, they'll call again—no matter if it is not quite so hot.

WHAT IT MEANT.—On the arrival of the steamer Nina, yesterday, we noticed the name of "Phalon" marked on the cover of an emigrant wagon. At first, it was whispered around that the President had come in disguise, on a trip Overland, to see how we are all getting along. But on a sober second thought, we concluded that could not be—for we heard only a few days ago, through the telegraph, that Mr. Lincoln was in Washington corresponding with the Rebel Peace Commissioners, through Mr. Greeley, and we also know that the "telegraph never lies," (?)—so we concluded the owner of the wagon had the name in question on his wagon cover, thinking it would have the same effect upon the hostile Indians as a horse shoe has in front of a house to keep witches off.

HARD HEAD.—Rather an amusing affair occurred on the street yesterday afternoon. A ferocious dog—perhaps a very watchful one—bit a stranger in the foot, inflicting a slight wound. Revenge was soon sought for on the part of the man, and he immediately procured a large club and went on the hunt for the dog. Finally coming upon the sagacious animal, lying in front of his masters door, he concluded that the time had come to "get even," and accordingly advanced, club in hand, and gave him a severe blow over the head. He was hit for him as it was supposed by all who witnessed the affray. His skull was certainly fractured.—Imagine the surprise of his antagonist when he quietly took to his legs and left the scene of action without any trouble whatever. Nobody hurt.

DEATH OF JOHN H. SCRANTON.—On the 15th inst., we published the announcement of Commodore Scranton's death at Stockton, Cal., obtaining our information from an exchange. Last evening we received the following telegram:

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26—8 P. M.

EDITOR OREGONIAN: State that I met John H. Scranton in this day in San Francisco, all well.

ALEX. DUNCAN.

BOAT RACING AT ASTORIA.—Capt. Holman informs us that on last Tuesday, when the Couch left Astoria, the pilot boat California and the sloop Harvest Queen, each loaded with Pick-pickers, left that place, bound for Cape Disappointment. It was the intention of the owners of the crafts to try their respective qualities for sailing. It is reported that quite an amount of money was bet on the result.

EXPRESS FOR CANYON CITY.—Mr. H. Jones of Jones' Dalles and Canyon City Express, who has been sojourning for a few days in our midst, leaves this morning with a large amount of express matter for the above place. Mr. Jones had several narrow escapes with his life from the Snake Indians within the last few months; but he is too wide awake for the red devils.

MARINE.—The bark Industry has finished discharging her freight, and will sail to-morrow for Oak Point and Rainier to load with lumber for San Francisco. The bark Almy sailed from West's mills, on the Columbia river, Saturday last, where she loaded with lumber. The steamer Pacific, which sailed on Saturday evening last, arrived in San Francisco harbor yesterday.

WILD PIGEONS.—The woods in the vicinity of Portland, abound with large flocks of wild pigeons, giving sportsmen a fine opportunity to exercise their skill. Mr. G. S. Vanslyke, yesterday, shot three dozen of the feathered tribe in the course of a half hours shooting—within two miles of the city.

ACCIDENT.—A boy by the name of Smith, had his foot crushed yesterday, by the falling of a log from the wharf to the deck of the steamer Belief. His uncle, on calling at Dr. Glisan's office for assistance, was surprised to find his brother undergoing an operation on his foot! Also, without complaining, he coolly assisted the Doctor in both operations.

REMOVING OBSTRUCTIONS. — Chief Engineer Bachtel, removed, yesterday, no less than three wagons which had obstructed the ingress and egress of the Engine House, No. 3. Owners of vehicles ought to know better.

FOR THIS PORT.—The telegraph advises us of the sailing of the steamer Oregon from San Francisco, for this port at 12 o'clock, m., yesterday. She may be reasonably looked for on Saturday next.

PAY YOUR TAXES.—Sheriff Stiles wishes us to inform delinquent tax-payers, that it is but fourteen days, when he will be compelled by law to sell their property at auction.

DISCHARGED.—Danl. Driscol, who was arraigned before the Recorder yesterday, on a charge made by one James Whitcomb, for threatening his life, was discharged.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Weinhard's infant daughter fell, yesterday, from the door of the second story of his dwelling, to the porch beneath, bruising herself badly. Drs. Glisan and Elwert are in attendance.

HAY.—Stable-keepers are busy teaming hay to their barns. No doubt they appreciate the old proverb—"Make hay while the sun shines."

SUDDEN DEATH.—A bright little boy, aged about 7 years, the son of Mr. M. Haas, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon.

CONVALESCENT.—Mr. Collier, who was injured a day before yesterday, is doing well.

BUT A GOOD ONE OR NONE.—Many absolutely worthless sewing-machines are now before the public, to purchase which would result in nought but disappointment and vexation to the owner. A cheap sewing-machine generally proves a dear bargain. GROVER & BAKER's have stood the test for many years; thousands are in use in this vicinity, and but one opinion prevails as to their worth, the advantages they possess for Embroidering, Braiding, Hemming, etc., and their wonderful simplicity renders them the best in use.—Union.

If you buy one of these machines from Pierson, the agent for Portland, rest assured that you are getting the very best.

The Monthly Meeting of the Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society will be held at the Baptist Church, Friday, July 29th, at 3½ P. M.

Mental Depression.—It has often been remarked that no one can minister to a mind diseased; but a mind diseased is frequently only the consequence of a disordered digestion, and naturally finds relief when the process of nutrition is restored to a healthful state. The PERUVIAN SYRUP removes the morbid condition of the stomach, quickens the circulation, increases the insensible perspiration, and consequently relieves the mind from the causes of its depression.

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "slight cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.

REDINGTON & Co., San Francisco, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—These Bitters are universally acknowledged to be a sure preventive and cure for Fever and Ague, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection. Their effect upon the system is most miraculous; they give a healthy tone to the system, relieve all morbid matter, and in fact thoroughly cleanse the system of all impurities. In no case has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been found in its use. To those afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the "Bitters" are offered as a speedy and certain cure. Try them and form your own opinion.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers every where. jy26d1m

Periodical Headache—so common in unclosured and marshy countries, Tic Douloureux, that most painful affection of the nerves of the face, are often only attacks of ague in disguise—proceeding from the same noxious influence. Jaundice, Dyspepsia and Diarrhœa, are frequently but disguised forms of Intermittent Fever. Even Rheumatism and Epilepsy, often result from the same miasmal cause. For such, Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue is an unfailing remedy. By striking at the root of these affections, it applies with equal certainty, as for the cure of Fever and Ague in its simplest forms.

Imitations are abroad! Be particular to enquire for Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. Sold everywhere.

The Alabama — Our Victoria neighbors cannot conceal a quiet exultation at the vast amount of laudable damage committed by the piratical Semmes, be one his jolly craft more such good luck befall, to the disconsolate of the Yankees. The following comments from the Victoria Chronicle are so expressive of English sympathy that we cannot refrain from quoting them in full. The "heavier armament," "Paul Jones" and "English gentleman" jokes are good

No paragraph in the news which we made public yesterday by an Extra Chronicle and which appears in our regular news columns to day, has excited more interest than the short and meagre narrative of the destruction of the Alabama. Setting aside all political questions, and looking back at her career in the same light as we read other stories of naval adventures, we believe that the memories of Semmes and his ship will contain a more continued succession of startling episodes in a short period than of any other vessel of war. Semmes' life, even amongst his enemies, will in future rank with that of Pamper, Paul Jones and Captain Cochrane. In the number of ships sunk, in the amount of property destroyed, the quantity of specie taken, and the value of prizes released on bonds, or other security, or any recognized service, or under any but queer fling, was ever so successful. Escaping from the British port at which she was built, under official espionage she got to sea by a ruse, and nearly three years afterwards, in the English channel, by accepting a challenge from a vessel of heavier armament than her own, she closes her first and last commission, by foundering in a sea fight. Her officers and crew must be well satisfied with the result of the engagement. The fate which has overtaken them is the most favorable they could expect. The Alabama might have perished from any of the casualties to which mercantile vessels are liable. She might have been caught in some port by an overpowering force, which to elude would have been impossible, and to fight would have been fool-hardy, and detained until the success of the Federal troops struck away from the Confederates the rights of belligerents. She was fortunate enough to meet an enemy so much stronger in every respect than herself, that there was a certain daring in engaging with her, but no so strong but that it would have been cowardice to refuse to meet her. She has had to strike her flag to the stars and stripes, but the opponent has no glorious prize to bring back to his country to recompense her for the losses she has suffered. The sea has received the battered Alabama into its friendly bosom, and her commander and most of his officers and crew have been picked up by the humanity of an English gentleman. Still the Northern nation, and especially the shipping interest have great matter for congratulation. The vessel, which more than any other hall injured their commerce and paralyzed their trade; the scourge of their commercial navy, and the object of capture of one half their maritime force, has been annihilated in fair fight. When the Kearsage returns to the Eastern States, her officers will be looked upon as benefactors, and such relics of the wreck as the waves have cast up will be kept as memorials of the most terribly successful element of destruction which the North or any other nation had ever to encounter.

"The Kilkenny Cats.—A late number of Notes and Queries gives the following account of the origin of the phrase we have placed at the head of this article. The writer says

The story has been so long current that it has become a proverb—"as quarrelsome as the Kilkenny cats"—two of the cats in which city asserted to have fought so long and so furiously, that naught was found of them but their tails! This is manifestly an Irish [illegible] and when your readers shall have learned the true anecdote connected with the cats they will understand why only two tails were found, the unfortunate owners having fled in terror from the scene of their mutilation. I am happy to being able to state that neither Ireland nor Kilkenny is at all disgraced by the occurrence, which did take place in Kilkenny, but which might have occurred in any other place in the known world. During the rebellion which occurred in Ireland in 1798 (or it may be in 1803), Kilkenny was garrisoned by a regiment of Hessian soldiers, whose custom it was to tie together in one of the barrack rooms two cats by their respective tails, and to throw them face to face across a line generally used for drying clothes. The cats naturally became infuriated, and scratched each other in the abdomen until death ensued to one or both of them, and terminated their sufferings. The officers of the corps were ultimately made acquainted with these barbarous acts of cruelty, and they resolved to put an end to them and punish the offenders. In order to effect the purpose, an officer was ordered to inspect each barrack room daily, and to report to the commanding officer in what cat he found the room. The cruel soldiers, determined not to lose the daily torture of the wretched cats, generally employed one of their comrades to watch the approach of the officer, in order that the cats might be liberated and take refuge in flight before the visit of the officer to the scene of their torture. On one occasion the "lookout man" neglected his duty, and the officer of the day was heard ascending the barrack stairs while the cats were undergoing their customary torture. One of the tormentors immediately seized a sword from the arm rack, and with a single blow divided the tails of the two cats. The cats, of course, escaped through the open windows of the room, which was entered almost immediately afterward by the officer, who inquired what was the cause of the two bleeding cats' tails being suspended on the clothes line, and was told in reply that "two cats had been fighting in the room, that it was found impossible to separate them, and that they fought so desperately that they had devoured each other up, with the exception of their two tails;" which may have satisfied Captain Schummelkettel, but would not have deluded any person but a beery Prussian.

A New God to the Hindoos.—The Delhi Gazette gives the following extraordinary instance of ignorance and superstition.

A Hindoo was afflicted with a series of family misfortunes—frequent intercessions to the gods proved unavailing for their relief and another Hindoo, an employee on the railway, was consulted as to what was to be done. He at once advised that the new deity which had recently come among them, the locomotive, should be appeased by the usual votive offerings. Accordingly, the other day, flowers, ghee, rice, etc., were prepared, and the man took his stand on the line waiting for the god. Down came the locomotive the offering was presented, and the man crushed to death.

John Locke tells us of a blind man who took his idea of scarlet from the sound of a trumpet. We see that kind of thing, rather. A hoopskirt, for instance, hanging out of a shop door, always reminds us of the peel of a belle.

Old Abe and Blondin.—The Pittsburg Commercial, a Union paper, relates the following incident, which lately occurred at the White House. Some gentlemen were present, excited and troubled about things generally, when Old Abe put a sudden stop to their complainings by the recital of the following. Said he

"Gentlemen, suppose all the property you are worth was in gold, and you had put it in the hands of Blondin to carry across the Niagara river on a rope, would you shake the cable or keep shouting out to him, Blondin, stand up a little straighter—Blondin, stoop a little more—or a little faster, lean a little more to the north, lean a little more to the south? No, you would hold your breath, as well as your tongue and keep your hands off until he was safe over. The Government is carrying an immense weight. Untold treasures are in the hands, they are doing the best they can. Don't badger them. Keep silence and we'll get you safe over.

The oldest newspaper in the world is published in Pekin. It is printed on a large sheet of silk, and, it is said, has been a weekly appearance for 1,400 years, or a thousand years.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 1, 1862.

Dr. J. P. KENDALL, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: I have known the Peruvian Syrup for [illegible] and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most valuable remedy for the class of diseases for which it is recommended that has ever been discovered. Its power to build up the system when broken down by the Dyspepsia is truly wonderful. In the case of [illegible] it is the only remedy that has ever done him any permanent good. I have recommended it in many cases of Dyspepsia, and in all it has given entire satisfaction. Yours truly,

A. A. HAYES, M. D.

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is only necessary to estimate its influence as a remedial agent, to be considered the most useful article to Medical science and the profession. Many of the most eminent chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation it remained almost a sealed book. Dr. Henry Anders, a physician of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This considered impossible by the medical faculty of the world is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Dr. Booth U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners. "American Medical Monthly, July 6, 1863, page 75."

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER,

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color, hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full strong and florid.

Full directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle. Prepared by Dr. H. Anders & Co., Physicians and Chemists, New York.

HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly searching and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them, imparting to all its former tone and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutrition is food a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver complain how the digestion may be improved the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions giving to the solvent juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken down frame and shattered constitution, which have yet been tested or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility from whatever cause arising may be cured, strength in whatever manner it may have been seized, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, this is a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In life's decline, if life the loss of vital force cannot be prevented it may commonly be mitigated by a specific which recruits the strength and spirits without exciting the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We commend to the aged.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

As an invigorant do rest effective in its influence and beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It forces the stomach to recover from a state of debility and inaction, and to perform its functions.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to this remedy for a restoration of that ring of the nervous system so essential to general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are so liable. Rheumatism and gout are the diseases of the blood as well as of the joints, and its use is to purify the blood and eliminate the humors on which they feed.
